Words & music by Dwight Yoakam

Does it show

As I watch her walking by

Does it show

That I'm trying not to cry

Does it show

That he's the reason why

Does it show

That every smile is a lie

Does it show

Even when I am discreet

Does it show

I'd fall right down at her feet

All on its own

My heart lets me know I'm loves biggest clown

Do you think that shows

Even when no one is around.

Please tell me honestly

Am I fooling anyone

Or is the truth kinda hard hard not to see.

In ways that I'll never know

Does it show

Please say its not too late

So I can stop while

There's still time

And avoid at least

Some small bit of ache.

Does it show

With each flickering memory's final glow

As night's cold shadows wrap

Around where hope let go

And I sit there in the dark

Does it show.
