In and out culture of the swollen mind,
Your passing through the circle that you thought you'd find in me,
When you found me.
Head along with a break in mind, Love was never uttered but the heart strings chimed in
me,
When you found me.
You run away, you never mind me,
You run away you run away despite me,
Run away, you run away you'll never mind,
You run away you run away you'll never mind...

Your praying for answers, nothing can stop us nothing can
Your praying for answers, nothing can stop us nothing
can

In and out culture of the swollen mind, I'm falling so short of what you thought you'd find in
me,
When you found me.
In answer to the question did you stifle me?
You planned it all together all in spite of me,
To find what you found in me.

You run away, you never mind me, you run away you run away despite me... run away, you run away you'll never mind you run away you run away you'll never mind...

X2

Your praying for answers, nothing can stop us nothing
can
Your praying for answers, nothing can stop us nothing
can
