There is something more to see that makes me breathe
There is something more to feel that makes me deal
With the things you do,
Now all I want is you to stand by me.

There are sometimes that I sit alone
There are sometimes that I die inside
From the things you say, but I know that I want you
I want you.

But I know that it will
Be, just fine, when the tears that I cry begin to dry and
Find their way back to you,
And I know that it will be so great,
Come back to me.

Well,
There are days in which we try to fly
The years in which we lie to ourselves thinking
We could be another man.

There are lives that have been lost to love
There are loves that have cost so many lives
So why even try if I'm'a end up alone again.

Cause I know that it will
Be, just fine, when the tears that I cry begin to dry and
Find their way back to you,
And I know that it will be so great,
Come back to me.

Oh, catch your breathe before the storm,
Light a match, and burn down what is
Inside, outside, upside down my life is'a twistin'
Out'a control, I'm dependent, I'm illusive,
Crack me open and grab my soul! sing it,

Ah, la, la la la, it'll all be better some day...
Give me One Reason & I'll give you a chance,
Make it live, make it dance, make it
Open up your heart, spin & shout,
Just walk along and you'll just fine, sing it!

Ah, la, la la la, it'll all be better some day...
Give me a song, and I'll make it mine,
I'll rhyme, I'll be love blind,
We'll give it a try!

Ah, la, la la la, it'll all be better some day...
Our love is contagious, advantageous,
Wakes me up, when I sleep in bed,
Drags me from the living dead!
Ah, la, la la la,
It'll all be better some day...
