Close my eyes and pretend that I'm asleep,
But I can't sleep, oh no no.
With a simple wipe away, you've left my life astray, oh
no.
But I can't fall asleep, I'm just not that strong.

No, no, no. I'd rather lie asleep,
Then wait for you to wait for me.
You'll never call, I can just see.
Oh, no, no, no.

Just give me One reason, one chance, one time
That I don't end up alone again.
And give me One season, one dance, one day
With you in my arms, with you in my arms.

Give me the words and I'll say them
How you want me to, oh no.
And give me the song, and
I'll sing it how you want me to Cause there ain't no rhyme or reason to how much I

Sit through these games that you play on me,
The terror comes on my shoulders.
You should've said how complicated you were.
Cause I don't need this, and you don't need me.

One reason, one chance, one time
That I don't end up alone again.
And give me One season, one dance, one day
With you in my arms, with you in my arms.

One reason, one chance, one time
That I don't end up alone again.
And give me One season, one dance, one day
With you in my arms, with you in my arms.

I lied there all night,
All night long when suddenly you called,
And I closed my eyes and I fell asleep.
When suddenly I could, I could see your that certain,
That certain Part of Me.
