This is the day we open your eyes
This world tries to keep us in chains Telling us whats right and whats wrong Well aint nobody gonna teach you, yeah

Im on a mission to respond Im gonna tear this system apart Design a new path for a soul Where we can follow our hearts
No one should hold us down (No one should hold us down)

Let every single breath help to set us free, to shut down the system, start over
And even if the world seems to disagree just shut down the system, start over

Let every step that we take be an experiment in faith Because the greatest risk in life is to take no risk at all
No one should hold us down (No one should hold us
down)

Let every single breath help to set us free, to shut
down the system, start over
And even if the world seems to disagree just shut down
the system, start over

Over, Over, Over, Over

Dont let society tell you that your goals aint right
That youre Cause we all got something to give Everybodys different Give em hell, Give em hell, Give em hell

No one should hold us down (No one should hold us
down)
Let every single breath help to set us free, start over Let every single breath help to set us free, to shut

And even if the world seems to disagree just shut down
the system, start over Let every single breath help to set us free, just shut down the system, start over
