It took me a lot of time
But now I clearly see

- You see that's nothing more
Unbearable than freedom
Once you've got it...

I wanna say yes...
Wanna say yes to life

People can't invent
Their lovers and their friends

- It's life which gives these
And also takes them away
Sometimes...

I wanna say yes...
Wanna say yes to life

I succeed very well
By not looking at the world around
By not looking at myself
Going on moving constantly...

You have to let it go
In order to hold on
There is a place
Where the fear must go
And the choice
And the loss as well...

The leftover love
The love that spills
Out of a cup too full
I understand how poems are made
Leftover love...
