We wander in our sleep

Hiding from our dreams

Hiding from our ghosts.

I know where you go

As bright as stars and quiet as snow

I'd give anything for you...

Anything for you to know me now

I would kill to be alive

To see through different eyes

Please slow me down

You've taken my last breath from me

My girl who killed the world

Please don't make me make believe that you should be alone.

Please don't go
