The day is mine, the night is also mine
Thou has set all the borders of this earth
I've never been one to believe
The preconceived limit that's set for me

Spit in the face of the haters
As I march closer to victory
And my time is here, my time
And my time is now, now

That's God's honest combine this
With the knowledge that I've acquired
Learn from my mistakes
I'm baptized by fire, by fire
That's God's honest, combine this
With the knowledge that I've acquired

I've had, I've had the ground fall from beneath my toes
Scraped my knees on the concrete, still I rose
And my time is here, my time
And my time is now, now

That's God's honest combine this
With the knowledge that I've acquired
Learn from my mistakes
I'm baptized by fire, by fire
That's God's honest, combine this
With the knowledge that I've acquired

This war has just begun
And my time is here, and my time is now
And your time is here, and your time is now

That's God's honest combine this
With the knowledge that I've acquired
Learn from my mistakes
I'm baptized by fire, by fire
That's God's honest, combine this
With the knowledge that I've acquired

This war has
This war has

This war has just begun
