When I say you today
How you tried to disguise
All the feelings you've kept inside
Then my world fell apart
And I opened my eyes
Giving up on my foolish pride

You may say that you've fallen
For somebody new
But I guess that you know what to do

Walk away and come with me
Don't turn around
Just walk away and you will see
There's still a chance that
You and I can make a new start
If you follow the road to your heart

I've been walking around
With a stone in my shoe
Since the day when you said goodbye
For the wisdom I've found
I behaved like a fool
And I can't find a reason why

Now you say that you've fallen
For somebody new
But I guess that you know what to do

Walk away with me
And you will see
There's always a chance for us
If you want to go
