[Translation]

If we met, we'd quarrel, wouldn't we?
We've lived together for too long, I guess
If we kept having our way, the gap would just widen, all the more

Having kissed, and embraced, maybe that's about enough We'd always forgotten, even the most natural way to love.

The joy of mutual trust, and the pain of wounding the other Perhaps someday, so we can love

Time goes by..
