This is the last song
I played for you
Do you remember
I was sitting on my bed, the back against the wall
I was describing your every move
Every move you made
Do you remember?
Do you remebmer?
I was like
'Sarah's picking up the papers
She's putting them on the piano
She's walking across the room
Steps on the cat
She's smiling at me'
Do you remember?
'Cos I remember
Even though I try to forget
So I take your advice
And relax and have a good time with friends
Oh, I know
The infection is more tolerable then the cure
So I try to find a cure for love
Can you help me?
'Cos I know, you found it for sure with your love
The infection is more tolerable then the cure
Now I know this song is nothing special
And you probably don't recall this song at all
But in some some small way I hope you recognise
That it's exactly the same chords
The same melody
The night that I sat in your room
On your bed as you were packing to leave
Do you remember?
'Cos I remember
Do you remember?
'Cos I remember
Even though I try to forget
So I take your advice
And relax and have a good time with friends
Oh, I know
The infection is more tolerable then the cure
So I try to find a cure for love

Can you help me?
'Cos I know, you found it for sure with your love
The infection is more tolerable then the cure
