Wait, there is too much on my mind
Are we here just to simply pass the time?
All these questions awake inside my head
All these questions awake inside me

Wait, there is too much on my mind
Are we here just to simply pass the time?
All these questions awake inside my head
All these questions awake inside me

Now, what I would give, what I would try
To be with just an ordinary girl
What I would give again, only if I
Could be with just an ordinary girl

Stop, I'm not happy anymore
You bring heartache and anger to the core
I have nothing to give inside me now
I have nothing to give inside me

Stop, I'm not happy anymore
You bring heartache and anger to the core
I have nothing to give inside me now
I have nothing to give inside me

Now, what I would give, what I would try
To be with just an ordinary girl
What I would give again, only if I
Could be with just an ordinary girl

Doesn't really matter, I'm alone now
Thrown out to the world
Do you feel the same?
'Cause we all feel the same sometimes

What I would give, what I would try
To be with just an ordinary girl
What I would give again, only if I
Could be with just an ordinary girl

What I would give, what I would try
To be with just an ordinary girl
