I never cared much for this world
(I just want to be someone like you)
But I never said I wouldn't reach
Deep down to blow them all away

I can feel it
But I don't know where my life's supposed to go
I can see it
But I'm covered by the fear of the unknown
I could hear it
But my head's too sick to listen on my own
Wanna do it my way

I never had much of my own
(I just wanna feel the sun like you)
But I never said I wouldn't spread
These wings to rise and fly away

I can feel it
But I don't know where my life's supposed to go
I can see it
But I'm covered by the fear of the unknown
I could hear it
But my head's too sick to listen on my own
Wanna do it my way

Will I be here for you?
Of course I will
Just remember when you're by yourself

I've faced trying times and I've seen pain
I've been through many different walks of life
And just because I haven't seen them all
Doesn't really matter 'cuz I'm floating

I can feel it
But I don't know where my life's supposed to go
I can see it
But I'm covered by the fear of the unknown
I could hear it
But my head's too sick to listen on my own
Wanna do it my way

Wanna do it my way
Wanna do it my way
Wanna do it my way
Wanna do it my way
