The end begins around us
The signs are too clear to deny
As a new millennium begins
Once faint hoof beats become clearer

An impassable void's creation
Between overlords and consumer drones
Rushes towards its completion
The constitution's ablaze

Freakishness becomes normalcy
The inverse of morality
Abominations praised
And met with open arms

Rome and Babylon's rise
Nears its final stage
Conform, accept in silence
Or die in the mob's rage

Hostility generated
From above
Victims pitted
Against each other

Attention's diverted away
From the actual antagonists
Afflict with sickness to enforce their cure
Synthetic peace carved out of madness

Is the stage set for the Demonic tyrant's rise?
More and more technology seems geared
To divide, monitor and terrorize

Personal freedoms, surrendered
The means for self-defense given away
Marshall law in a new empire
Caesar takes his throne

Contain, control, to dominate
Contain, control, exterminate

Contain, control, to dominate
Contain, control, exterminate

Contain, control, to dominate
Contain, control, exterminate
Contain, control, to dominate
Contain, control, exterminate

Contain, control, to dominate
Contain, control, exterminate
Contain, control, to dominate
Contain, control, exterminate
