It's tired and I'm getting late
I try to speak but I can't relate
The DJ says I need my rest
Like a storm lost bird
I can't find my nest

I gotta get home to you
I gotta get home to you
I gotta get home to you

A strangers smokes
And smiles and wants to speak
Says do you remember
The cold earth on Beacon Street

And the glimpse of life
That I have seen
Fading faintly in my dream

I gotta get home to you
Bring it on home to you
I gotta get it home to you

I lie on the bed
Can't get to sleep
I've been on the road
About three weeks

She says, you're not smiling
You must be sad
Yes, this lonesomeness
Is the worst I've had

I gotta get home to you
Home to you
I gotta get home to you

The truth, the lies, the alibis
Every day we do and die
But the path was lost
In the falling snow
As we dance our days

Out there below

I gotta get home to you
Got to bring it home to you
I gotta get home to you

It's tired and I'm getting late
I try to speak but I can't relate
The DJ says I need my rest
Like a storm lost bird
I can't find my nest, oh

I gotta get home to you
Gotta get home to you
Bring it on home to you
