[Incomprehensible]

It took so long to find you
Now I do nothin' but think about you
And though I feel this way
You're telling me it's wrong

It's more than mere insinuation
And far beyond my imagination
If you can't tell yourself, allow me to be strong
You won't believe that I can see it in your eyes

You're a victim of the modern heart
Afraid of falling in love
A victim of the modern heart
You turn away instead of callin' it love, it's love, it's love

You know it's not the way you planned it
There is nothing that you can do about it
And if you feel the same why must you play the game?
You've got him on your mind but I'll be there sometime

You're a victim of the modern heart
Afraid of falling in love
A victim of the modern heart
You turn away instead of callin' it love, it's love, it's love

You won't believe that I
Can see it in your eyes

A victim of the modern heart
Afraid of falling in love
A victim of the modern heart
Afraid of falling in love

A victim of the modern heart
Afraid of fallin' in love

You know I love you, girl
You're my only one
Don't let your modern heart
Let your love come down

A victim of the modern heart
Afraid of fallin' in love
