I suppose I'd better let you know
I feel something stirring in my soul
I know I'm sitting here all composed
But you'd better know when the Holy Ghost shows
I'm liable to hit the floor

When I think about the wonders He's performed in my life
I could break down and cry
So when I wave my hands you may not understand
That I've been through a circumstance
And I've got a praise in advance

I don't know about you or what you've come to do
But please don't hinder me
I don't mind your company
If you've got praise for the King
Let's get together and send it up

And I suppose I'd better let you know
I'm filled with the Holy Ghost
I'm a tongue talking Holy Roller
And if that's just too much for you
I'd better be the one to break the news
I'm a hand clapping, foot stomper

When I think about the wonders He's performed in my
I could break down and cry at almost anytime
So when I wave my hands you may not understand
That I've been through a circumstance
Got a praise in advance

I don't know about you or what you've come to do
But please don't hinder me
I don't mind your company
If you've got praise for the King
Let's get together and send it up

I suppose I'd better let you know
I feel something stirring in my soul

Send it up. Send it on up
Send it up. Send it on up
Send it up. Send it on up
Send it up. Send it on up
