I remember late November
Pondering over all of the things in my life
You consoled me, came to hold me,
Showed yourself right and you kept me through the night

Got a bit of dÃfÃ©jÃfÃ vu
Once I got you back into my view
Saw it like a matinee
Didn't know it was coming that way

Got a bit of dÃfÃ©jÃfÃ vu
Once I got you back into my view
Saw it like a matinee

There's no one to stand next to you
Nobody can do what you do
You really don't have nothing else to prove
The things you do, it's just like you

You stand all by yourself
Can't be compared to no one else
You're the first and only last premiere
You've got so much savoir-faire

You're amazing, keep me gazing,
You're my admiration and I think you are so awesome
And you are second to none, never will you be undone
By any other power; you exceed all expectation

Got a bit of dÃfÃ©jÃfÃ vu
Once I got you back into my view
Saw it like a matinee
Didn't know it was coming that way

Got a bit of dÃfÃ©jÃfÃ vu
Once I got you back into my view
Saw it like a matinee
Didn't know it was coming that way
Didn't know what to do cause you caught me by surprise
I'm sure you could tell when you looked into my eyes

Thought I knew you well until now
And I realize, I realized

No one, nobody can do what you do
You really don't have nothing else to prove
The things you do, just like you
Oh it's just like you stand

By yourself
Can't be compared, no one else
You're the first and only last premiere
You've got so much savoir-faire

Next to you, nobody can do what you do
You really don't have nothing else to prove
The things you do, just like you
Oh it's just like you stand

By yourself
Can't be compared, no one else
You're the first and only last premiere
You've got so much savoir-faire

There's no one next to you
Nobody can do (no one)
Really don't have nothing else to prove
The things you do, just like you

Oh you stand all by yourself
Can't be compared, no one else
You're the first and only last premiere
You've got so much savoir-faire

There's no one next to you
