Then came the night

I was alone

alone

big empty bed all on my own

alone

All in my glory such a sad story

moment by moment I go mad

so mad.

How did it come this pretty path

you ask?

Why did he leave

no

I don't know

they go.

I'll find another

maybe his brother

I'll move to the next without a pause

because

I love men. What can I do? I love men they're no good for you.

In the end they always resist and pretend you didn't exist.

But my friend

they somehow persist and remain at the top of my list.

I love men

I love men

love them over and over and over again.

I love men it's always the same

I love men I'm bad at the game.

Can't defend the way that I feel

it's no trend the feeling is real.

Now and then I try to conceal where and when I choose to reveal.

I love men

I love men

love them over and over and over again.

Good times may come and they may go. I know.

Money goes fast but it comes slow

so slow

One thing is certain love's final curtain
won't leave me bereft while there is one man left.
I love men
it's going to last
I love men
the feeling won't pass.
I love men wherever I go
all these men they're haunting me so.
Miles of men as far as I see
Smiles of men they're smiling at me.

I love men
I love men
love them over and over and over again.

I love men. What can I do?
I love men they're no good for you.
In the end they always resist and pretend you didn't exist.
But my friend
they somehow persist and remain at the top of my list.
I love men
I love men
love them over and over and over again.

I love men it's always the same
I love men I'm bad at the game.
Can't defend the way that I feel
it's no trend the feeling is real.
Now and then I try to conceal where and when I choose to reveal.
I love men
I love men
love them over and over and over again.
I love men
it's going to last
I love men
the feeling will pass. . . .

I love men
it's going to last
I love men
the feeling will pass.
I love men wherever I go
all these men they're haunting me so.
Miles of men as far as I see
Smiles of men they're smiling at me.
I love men
I love men

love them over and over and over again.

I love men. What can I do? I love men they're no good for you.

In the end they always resist and pretend you didn't exist.

But my friend

they somehow persist and remain at the top of my list.

I love men

I love men

love them over and over and over again.
