Twelve PM outside it's all closed
Even all the freaks are locked up at the home
The bulbs just blown above my head
I'm flicking through the book that i've never read
It's too dark to make out the words
So i make some up and they sound superb
The nerve in my left eye is slightly ???
I can ??? kissing

They won't make love though they never do
I'm here with my ghost i'm waiting for you
They won't make love though they never do
I'm here with my ghost i'm waiting for you

It gets that way sometimes you know
It gets that way sometimes
It gets that way sometimes you know
I got no-one to speak to but my own ghost

It gets that way sometimes you know
It gets that way sometimes
It gets that way sometimes you know
I got no-one to speak to but my own ghost

I used to like it here like twenty seven seconds ago
I like it here but right now i gotta get out
Something about twenty seven years in the same town

It starts to get a little too phobic
I know this this time i gotta blow this place
Once and for all, i gotta blow this place

Some prefer the pain of staying where they are
Others can't stop themselves from going too far
Some prefer the pain of staying where they are
You couldn't stop yourself

It gets that way sometimes you know
It gets that way sometimes you know
It gets that way sometimes you know

I got no-one to speak to but my own ghost

It gets that way sometimes you know
It gets that way sometimes
It gets that way sometimes you know
I got no-one to speak to but my own ghost

It gets that way sometimes you know
It gets that way sometimes
It gets that way sometimes you know
I got no-one to speak to but my own ghost

Impenetrable if only one hundred years of solitude
Only left me lonely
And thirsty it was so uneven
Ain't miss believing
I don't stop believe in Achieving the company of demons
I don't believe in breathing for no reason
I'm leaving i'm leaving
I don't believe in breathing for no reason

It gets that way sometimes you know
It gets that way sometimes
It gets that way sometimes you know
I got no-one to speak to but my own ghost

It gets that way sometimes you know
It gets that way sometimes
It gets that way sometimes you know
I got no-one to speak to but my own ghost
