Sometimes you can be better off
Just being lost
Being blown around in circles
With the rest of the human dust

Just being lost
Being blown around in circles
With the rest of the human dust

Usurp and move through the city
Like a snake or dog or a human on a gang rape
I watched a video tape of a man
Who got stabbed in the head
For taking little boys to bed
Crack down crack down I spin-round
You gotta go down to go up to go down
My TV got stole
Rolled in a rizla
It's summer tie but it ain't no sizzler

Sometimes you can be better off
Just, being lost
Being blown around in circles
With the rest of the human dust

Sometimes you can be better off
Just, being lost
Being blown around in circles
With the rest of the human dust

Alley to the city
The city is an alley way
Ancient stench on the bench where I stay
Listen to the vVoice of a man with no legs
As he sings a little dance as he begs
Pulsing like a heart of a hungry drum
I won't fight the night but still I can run
The hungry animals staring in my face
Tiny little insects crwaling every place
Silence is piercing
Screaming is repeating

I remember the alarm but I didn't see the beating
I wake up in a bird mans cage birds
Pecking at my body, somebody's in a rage
I keep moving out into the park
There's a dog dragging a clock
Backwards across the grass
I see a man taking photographs of dead flies
I don't ask why

Sometimes you can be better off
Just being lost
Being blown around in circles
With the rest of the human dust

Sometimes you can be better off
Just being lost
Being blown around in circles
With the rest of the human dust

The last man on a frozed ocean
Two miles from land and his soul's been stolen
He tied it to a metal pole
But then he dropped it down a icy hole
It's like he wanted it that way
He know it's gone
That's where he stays
He's thinking what went wrong
Your song, that's the only song he sings
It's just it ends when it begins
Your song, that's the only song he sings
It's just it ends when it begins

Sometimes you can be better off
Just being lost
Being blown around in circles
With the rest of the human dust

Sometimes you can be better off
Just being lost
Being blown around in circles
With the rest of the human dust

They say it's gonna rain tonight
I might stay up to watch it fall

They say it's gonna rain tonight
I might stay up to watch it fall

They say it's gonna rain tonight
I might stay up to watch it fall

They say it's gonna rain tonight
I might stay up to watch it fall

They say it's gonna rain tonight
I might stay up to watch it fall

They say it's gonna rain tonight
I might stay up to watch it fall
