She closes her eyes, when she dreams my name at night It makes her days It makes her days go by with the thought of me on her mind Her eyes lit up like shooting stars that reached her smile She is the light that brightens up my skies

Say my name As a lullaby I need you hear To light up my skies

If I get lost, I'll just think of your smile If I get lost, I'll just think of your smile to find My way, to find my way back home

You showed me the ways to make black light up the place How can I see if you're not here with me?

Why does time try, to pass us by, with it's moving speeds? Try not to move Try not to move And I'll just meet you there

Say my name As a lullaby I need you here To light up my skies Just light up my skies

You showed me the ways to make black light up the place How can I see if you're not here with me?

You showed me the ways to make black light up the place How can I see if you're not here with me? If I get lost, I'll just think of your smile If I get lost, I'll just think of your smile If I get lost, I'll just think of your smile
