

Easton Sheena"When The Lightning Strikes Again"

Visit "When The Lightning Strikes Again" on MotoLyrics.com

Such imagination in your eyes, when you're touching me
The way your hands feel, so cool, I can tell you do it from memory
But I want you now, and I don't care, if it isn't right or it isn't fair
So you better beware

Chorus:
When the lightning strikes again, what you gonna do When the lightning strikes again, it's gonna tear your heart out
But when the lightning strikes, it's gonna be forever Maybe now or maybe never

Call it fascination with the way our love survives another night
I wanna tell you that it's over, but you just say "turn out the light"
Well you hurt me once, now you're back for more I just don't know what we're heading for, so you better watch out

Once again on the edge of an old romance Where you gonna go, how you gonna get out?

(Instrumental break)

chorus repeats out
