And the churches wont stretch up through tarmac of flyovers,
The city don't smell like they said in the brochures,
And it's no longer surprising when lovers and lawyers
they lie,
But I'd gladly put up with this shit til the day that I die.
Well weve had our problems but hey hasn't everyone?
As soon as they're gone we just drag in another one,
I can see that you're sad, but you say there's a lash in your eye,
And I'll gladly put up with your shit til the day that I die.
Yeah well.. I get the feeling Im just not cut out for this,
All strategies, hidden agendas and politics,
But if we can stand before the legions of enemy, just you and I,
Then I'll gladly put up with this shit til the day that I die,
And oh well they will not hurt me at all,
Oh they will not hurt me at all,
