I'm on the chopping block
Chopping off my stopping thought
Self doubt and selfism
Were the cheapest things I ever bought
When you said it's love d'you mean the back of love
We're taken advantage of breaking the back of love
We're taken advantage of breaking the back of love
Easier said than done you said
But it's more difficult to say
With eyes bigger than our bellies
We want to
But we can't look away
What were you thinking of
When you dreamt that up
When you're surrounded by
A simple chain of events
Eventually
You'll shack those shackless off
We can't tell our left from right
But we know we love extremes
Getting to grips with the ups and downs
Because there's nothing in between
When you say that's love
D'you mean the back of love
When you said it's love d'you mean the back of love
We're taken advantage of breaking the back of love
We're taken advantage of breaking the back of love
What were you thinking of
When you dreamt that up
We're taken advantage of
We're breaking the back of love
Breaking the back of love
