The autumn of our union has arrived
And everything is dying that survived
Your head expands
And burns up everything
You make demands
As the winter turns to spring
By summer's fall
My ears begin to ring
What have you become?

You said we'll see who's at the finish line
This phantom that you seek is such a crime
The lines are drawn
And the race it has begun
Are you the hare?
Don't you know he never won
The gravity
Is pulling us apart
What have you become?

My impatience grows with bridges burning
Boughs are breaking
Rain is falling
As Saturn returns to me
What did you think
I'd have the time to waste on you?
'Cause I can run faster?
I can run faster.
Faster than beauty
Faster than beauty

The oracle it speaks but not for me
It's never what I'd want for us to be
The fire looms
And it swirls above our heads
Your whiskey's gone
And so are all your friends
A supernova
Was once a burning sun
A black hole
You've become

My impatience grows with bridges burning
Boughs are breaking
Rain is falling
As Saturn returns to me
What did you think
I'd have the time to waste on you?
'Cause I can run faster?
I can run faster.
Faster than beauty
Faster than beauty
