"The Fifth Night"

Near the ocean she gave her breath
And on the fifth night she gave the rest
You put my answer to the test
And you confuse me for your friend

Why can't you want me like I want you too?
Why can't you need me like I need you too?
When I look through you, there's emptiness.

Near the ocean he gave his breath
And on the fifth night he gave the rest
You put my answer to the test
And you confuse me for your friend

Why can't you want me like I want you to?
Why can't you need me like I need you to?
When I look through you, there's emptiness.

Near the ocean, near the ocean, near the ocean...
