Today I can't seem to find what I'm searching for
Oh well, maybe tomorrow
I wait, devious thoughts but no inspiration at all
I have shut down

Generations lost in the haze of these apathy days
When everyone falls
Segregation, someone to blame
But the problems remain when everyone falls

Somewhere looking for shelter
I still can't find myself, I am alone
Aware, is it my color or culture, who can tell
Should we be hated for ourselves, where should we go

Generations lost in the haze of these apathy days
When everyone falls
Segregation, someone to blame
But the problems remain when everyone falls

Are you with me, sometime or never
Are you with me, sometime or never
Or never, never, never, don't let me down

Generations lost in the haze of these apathy days
When everyone falls
Segregation, someone to blame
But the problems remain when everyone falls

Generations lost in the haze of these apathy days
When everyone falls
Today tomorrow sometimes never
Today tomorrow sometimes never

Today tomorrow sometimes never
Today tomorrow sometimes never
Today tomorrow sometimes never
