Life is easy, where you're coming from
You take what pleases and you turn it on
Born from a wayward style that's running wild
You're the stranger that was ever known

You know I was living on doubts
You know I was living on odds
You're my favorite

You started a fire
In the heart of a wasted life
I've got something to burn
Anytime, anyway you like

Take me closer than I've ever been
Paint a canvas like I've never seen
Red for the blood that drives you ever round
You're the danger I've been waiting on

You know I was living on doubts
You know I was living on odds
You're my favorite

You started a fire
In the heart of a wasted life
I've got something to burn
Anytime, anyway you like

You started a fire
In the heart of a wasted life
I've got something to burn
Anytime, anyway you like

It's just the way that you are
It's just the way that you are
It's just the way that you are
It's just the way that you are

We like the way that you are
We like the way that you are
It's just the way that you are

We like the way that you are

We like the way that you are

We like the way that you are

We like the way that you are
