Walking down this road I see a path
That still reminds me
Of everything that I have done before

And in my heart I know
That I am sifting through the riddles
And I don't ever wanna be alone

I keep searching for the answers
And I keep looking around for more

Then I'm free
So break these chains that bind me
And strip away all that was there before

Now I'm free
Put all this pain behind me
I finally found what I was looking for

Morning comes and now I see
My life is just beginning
And I can't wait for all there is to come

You became my passion
Gave me something to believe in
Now I know my life has just begun

And I finally found the answer
To what I was looking for

Then I'm free
So break these chains that bind me
And strip away all that was there before

Now I'm free
Put all this pain behind me
I finally found what I was looking for

Well, I keep walking down this dusty road
That I have made for myself
And no one else but me

And it took so long but now I'm found
You're the only one who could ever save me
Thank God, I'm free

Now I'm free
Put all this pain behind me
I finally found what I was looking for

Now I'm free
So break these chains that bind me
And strip away all that was there before
