One life could never be enough, to break these chains
to win your heart.
Feels like hitchhiking cross the desert land.
Ive played the clown, I was the king, was the one who searched the ring.
All in all it seems your heart is hot-wired.

Togetherness is just an illusion.
The longing for home stays a dream.
Youre waitin til someone will knock on your door to serve a solution to you. (Shivers to the core)
How can you act like a whore?

Long gone away
There is nothing left to say.
Pride betrays your passion everyday.
Long run nowhere
Somehow you should take some care.
You cant stay in shade and hide out there.

Youre eyes wont fool me once again. No more dances in the rain.
Not another night caught in your sweet cold jail.
I was your shelter, Ive fought your fears, was the one who dried your tears.
But this time you have killed all emotions.

One fuckin match could also be a failure.
The treasures in life are still close.
And youre waitin til someone will knock on your door
to serve the solution to you. (How can you ignore)
I will not wait anymore!

Long gone away
There is nothing left to say.
Pride betrays your passion everyday.
Long run nowhere
Somehow you should take some care.
You cant stay in shade and hide out there.
