DEBUTANTE

She was a pillar of society, destined to live a life of ignominy on a plane going nowhere in a soap opera world, what we gonna do with this girl?

She keeps me waiting, debutante She keeps me waitng, heart's been bought

Scoring glue on the eastside with her rolex watch, she's got the manners of a queen the morals of a dog with a face like that she could stop a clock, she drags me down I just can't stop

It hurts some times, it hurts sometimes when you give all you can and it's not enough and you can't get no love cause her love's been bought
