SO I THOUGHT

So I thought we could be lovers and friends and still we'd get along

So I thought that we could find a cloud that we could ride upon

So I thought we could, So I thought we could, so I thought we should

Chances were we would, what went wrong with us, now things aren't so good

Cause I heard girls like you were only found on TV and magazines

Where this leads us now, guess that remains yet to be seen

So I thought we'd end up together our paths forever crossed

A destiny and a tragedy, without you I'll be lost How'd it come to this, the shadow has been cast, thought it'd always last

So I thought we could, I really felt it should, now things aren't so good

Cause I heard girls like you were only found on TV and
magazines

Living without you changes what living means to me

So I thought we could be lovers and friends and still

so I thought that we could make something better I'd tell you in a song

Remember how it was, remember what it meant,
thought it'd always last

thought we should
