Didn't know it
I guess that I should
The days of summer were over
Forever

Never knew
That as you lay beside me
My dear
The rose that came
to bloom would die

Should have seen it
When I looked at you
The future's changing forever
It's over

All too soon
You've learnt to live without me
It's true
Like roses always bloom and die

In the darkness I remember you
Every smile and every time you cried

Never knew
That as you lay beside me
My dear
The rose that came
to bloom would die

In the silvend I remember you Regretting every tear that I made you cry
