Tess, please understand me, you know how badly
That I can feel without you near
A kiss to leave you, I know I have to
'Cause you could steal my heart from here

Maybe the winners loose the game
Maybe our time passed us away
Maybe tomorrow will come and give you
Whatever you are wishing

Every daydream, it's the same thing
Tess and I together from a world apart
When I miss her, I remember
You never know when life will bring another lifetime

And if I touch you, the way I want to
Is it harder to say goodbye?
I'm really quite sure, I know the answer
And now there's every single reason to cry

Maybe the winners loose the game
Maybe our time passed us away
Maybe tomorrow will come and give you
Whatever you are wishing

Every daydream, it's the same thing
Tess and I together from a world apart
When I miss her, I remember
You never know when life will bring another lifetime

From the first time, that I saw you
Knew at last I'd found a better reason to live
But it's sad too, 'cause I left you
Waiting for me to come into another lifetime

Every daydream, it's the same thing
Tess and I together from a world apart
When I miss her, I remember
You never know when life will bring another lifetime

From the first time, that I saw you

Knew at last I'd found a better reason to live
But it's sad too, 'cause I left you
Waiting for me to come into another lifetime

From the first time, that I saw you
Knew at last I'd found a better reason to live
But it's sad too, 'cause I left you
Waiting for me to come into another lifetime

From the first time, that I saw you
Knew at last I'd found a better reason to live
But it's sad too, 'cause I left you
Waiting for me to come into another lifetime

From the first time, that I saw you
Knew at last I'd found a better reason to live
But it's sad too, 'cause I left you
Waiting for me to come into another lifetime
