(Some day soon can't come too soon for me)

Some day soon
On a strange and magic street
We will meet, my love
Yes, you will come along

All the joys that were ever denied me
All at once will be walking beside me
Somehow someday soon
My sad heart will change it's tune
From a blue lament into
A beautiful song

Until then, I'll keep waiting
Waiting, waiting, waiting, patiently

Deep inside this longing grows
So as the old expression goes
Someday soon, can't come too soon for me

(Someday soon
Lies that heart will change it's tune
From a blue lament into
A beautiful song)

Until then, I'll keep waiting
Waiting, waiting, waiting, patiently

Deep inside this longing grows
So as the old expression goes
Someday soon, can't come too soon for me
