If you wake up turning in your bed
If your feelings coming to your head
If you wake up screaming in the night, that is fire

If you realise that you've been wrong
If you didn't know your love was strong
Then the fire comes and wakes you up, flaming fire

In your heart, fire
You can't stop the fire
That's a demon in your heart

I've been playing with my voodoo-dolls
There's a demon ready when I call
If I wanna to break your soul it would fire

I've got a magic books and magic plans
Baby I can do most anything
I can steel your heart and make it burn in the fire

In your heart, fire
You can't stop the fire
That's a demon in your heart

SOLO

You will wake up screaming out with fear
You'll regret that you did leave me here
I am far away but still I'm near you with fire

If you don't beware you go insane
Cause that fire only brings you pain
If you forcing to come back again would you fire

In your heart fire
You can't stop the fire
That's a demon in your heart
