Well, I thought you loved me truly
And your love would never end
Here I stand before you baby
And my heart will never mend

Though I know that it's so useless
I still hope that you will return
Everytime I wake up lonely
Then my eyes begin to burn

The lonely teardrops
Well, here they come
I've been crying all the time dear
Since the day that you've been gone

The lonely teardrops
They will never end
'Til you say you've changed your mind dear
And come back to me again

Every day is like a nightmare
Waiting for the mail to come
Just to see if there's a letter
Saying you'll be coming home

And I'm waiting by the phone dear
For the call that you never made
And I realize it's useless
And my heart is gonna break

The lonely teardrops
Well, here they come
I've been crying all the time dear
Since the day that you've been gone

The lonely teardrops
They will never end
'Til you say you've changed your mind dear
And come back to me again
