Need you, love you, want you every day
Thinking of you every step of the way

Don't believe what I've been told that you don't want me to stay
Cause I need you, need you every day

Birds are singing, when you call me your man Bells are bringing, from a touch of your hand

What they say about you is a thing I can't understand Please don't leave me, don't go breaking my plans

I have suffered every day from the things I hear them
say
That your love would only last on shorter time
If it's true you'll break my heart, 'cause I don't want us to part
So please tell me all the secrets of your mind

Could you tell me why they're talking 'bout you
It won't help me if you're hiding the truth

Is it true what they all say that I have only been fooled
Won't you tell me, were you really untrue

I have suffered every day from the things I hear them
say
That your love would only last on shorter time
If it's true you'll break my heart, 'cause I don't want us
to part
So please tell me all the secrets of your mind

Need you, love you, want you every day
Thinking of you every step of the way
