You left me for an other man and baby, I can't understand Your reason seem a little dim, I don't know what you see in him
Well, I did everything for you, you never caught me being untrue
I stayed at home 'most every night, so baby, you don't treat me right

I always did believe you, I never did deceive you You always could put your trust in me
And suddenly you left me and said you would forget me
It was the last of all the things I need

So now I'm lonely by my self, all since you put me on the shelf
And I will never understand why you did leave me for that man
