Oh, oh, oh, a teenage love
Oh, oh, oh, a teenage love

They say our love is just a teenage love
They say our love is just a teenage love
But how can they say how things gonna be tomorrow

They say our love will have to die some day
They say our love will have to die some day
They say we're too young to throw our love away

Oh, but I can't spend my life without you
And I know you love me to
My life today is built around you
Why can't they see, I can not leave you

They say our love must die forever more
They say our love will die forever more
They can't understand, It's you that I'm living for

Oh, but I can't spend my life without you
And I know you love me to
My life today is built around you
Why can't they see, I can not leave you

They say our love is just a teenage love
They say our love is just a teenage love
But how can they say how things gonna be tomorrow
But how can they say how things gonna be tomorrow
