Tonight you're gonna break my heart
And you won't even think of all the mess that you did start
I know it's time for us to part
Tonight you're gonna break my heart

Even since the day we met I guess I knew
You were not the kind of girl to hold on to Even though I tried my best to work it out
I just couldn't help from have a certain doubt

And tonight you really put me on the ground
When I see you flirt with every guy around
So I guess I have to take what's coming to
And just realize that I am loosing you

Tonight you're gonna break my heart
And you won't even think of all the mess that you did
I know it's time for us to part
Tonight you're gonna break my heart

Well, I guess I only have myself to blame
I should've realized that love is just a game
I'm an old and stupid man but you're so young Guess I should go back and stay where I belong

Tonight you're gonna break my heart
And you won't even think of all the mess that you did
Tonight you're gonna break my heart

(Solo)

Tonight you're gonna break my heart
And you won't even think of all the mess that you did
I know it's time for us to part
Tonight you're gonna break my heart
I know it's time for us to part

Tonight you're gonna break my heart
