Sometimes a man does things without half thinking and what I saw I did not understand
I called you names and said some things that hurt you
And in the heat i started walking out that door

CHORUS:

But on second thought I'll just turn around in my tracks
And walk back into your arms where I belong... I was wrong
On second thought I apologize for what I've done
Cause your the only one I'll always be in love with

I know its not your fault that your so pretty
And that you turn the head of every man...I understand
But when I saw you dancing with him I just lost it
I started thinking I don't love you anymore

CHORUS:

But on second thought I'll just turn around in my tracks
And walk back into your arms where I belong... I was wrong
On second thought I apologize for what I've done
Cause your the only one I'll always be in love with....
