Just across the mountain there is something calling me
Calling come and see way you ought to be
A valley full of buttercups is singing me a song
Come and see the place where you belong

It's near a town they say by the name of want to stay
Right near a little village called someday
It's just across the mountain where the big airliners fly
And I am gonna find it by and by (It's near a town they say by the name of yesterday)
Right near a little village...
And I am gonna find it just across the mountain
