One, one, one grain of sand
One, one, one grain of sand
Just one little grain of sand
Can change your life and ruin your plans

Undermine your house of love
Bring it tumbling down
One, one, one grain of sand

Once upon a mountain top, a castle stood
Carved out of rock and stone, iron and wood
Then one day a grain of sand
Grew into an iron latch

Undermined the mountain side
And the castle tumbled down
One, one, one grain of sand

A lover spoke an angry word that led to tears
The tears led to a quarrel, love disappeared
That word was like a grain of sand

That undermined the things they've planned
It shook up the house of love
And brought it tumbling down
One, one, one grain of sand

Just one little grain of sand
Can change your life and ruin your plans

Undermine your house of love
Bring it tumbling down
One, one, one grain of sand
One, one, one grain of sand
