TAKE A LITTLE TIME

(John D. Loudermilk)

℗ '68 Acuff-Rose Music

Take a little time to hold and kiss her
Or you're gonna find someday you're gonna miss her Just a little time is all that love demands and understands
So take a little time to take her dancing
Take a little time that's all that she is asking
Just a little time is all that love demands and
understands
You'll find all that overtime at the office
And all of those gifts and presents that it buys
Just cannot beat a couple of the morning coffees
And a kiss before you're kissed goodbye
So take a little time and take her dinning
Or you're gonna wind up boy by finding
Just a little time is all that love demands and
understands
So take a little time to take her walking
Just a little kiss and a little bit talking
Just a little time is all that love demands and
understands
Don't break your back make you a stack of money
They say the better things in life are free
So settle down and start hanging round your honey
Before your honey starts making eyes at me
Take a little time to say you love her
Take a little time and you'll discover
Just a little time is all that love demands and
understands
(And understands)
