"There You Go"

There you go pretending that you own me
Acting like you turn the world in which I live
There you go pretending that you'll never hurt me
Acting like an angel that I should forgive

There you go now can't you see I'm not part of your show now
I'm just a fool not the leading guy you used to know
There you go pretending that you'll never hurt me
Acting like you turn the world in which I live
There you go acting like I'll always need you
There you go guess you think I always will
There you go guess you think I always will
