When I was very young my mother often said
I was a bashful kid, my face was always red
I was afraid of girls but now you see
Lordy, Lord, there's been a change in me

Then at the age of twelve I went to my first dance
We played some kissin' games and then I got the chance
To learn about how nice a kiss could be
You know there was a change in me

I started noticin' the little girl next door
I walked her home from school I never did before
I even carved her name upon a tree
Oh boy, there was a change in me

I took the slick enough my hair were lots of clues
And I would shine my shoes and look in mirrors too
Until my mother said why son it's doom, ain't it
There's been a change in you

As the years went by I surely get around
Why I was number one 'bout all the girls in town
I had a different date most every night
There was a change alright

But now I've met a gal who stole my heart away
I'm gonna marry her and settle down someday
And if I'm true to her then I'll agree
There's been a change in me
