Don't need another drink now been drinkin' the whole night long don't need no time to think now been thinking since you been gone what could i use it to make it all right one thing i need is to mind I could use another you, i could use somebody new that could do what you could do back when you loved me i could use a lovers touch, that could move me just as much i could never get enough back when you loved me now that we're through i could use another You Don't wanna go to new places that wouldn't do no good don't wanss see new faces though everyone says i should one thing i'm missing and one thing i need is love like the lovin' that you gave to me
