You look just like somebody that I used to know
Some old flame I could not handle so long ago
Everything about you looks like heart over mind
You're just too much candy for a dime

You're just too much candy for a dime, ain't no way
I can look into those eyes of yours and walk away
You think I would know better but I fall every time
You're just too much candy for a dime

So dance with me and tell me how you think it could be I can't read your mind so tell me what you want out of me
You're too good to be true, but then I know one more time
You're just too much candy for a dime

You're just too much candy for a dime, ain't no way
I can look into those eyes of yours and just walk away
You think I would know better but I fall every time
You're just too much candy for a dime
You're just too much candy for a dime

Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah
You're just too much candy for a dime
You're just too much candy for a dime
You're just too much candy for a dime
